On June 27, 1892, the Club was incorporated and established itself at 308 Gates venue, near Bedford

The Club then had increased its memb ship to forty, and the officers were: W. J. Fistcher, President; G. L. Titus, Vice-Presient and Captain; W. H. Wagner, Secretary, and L. G. Hoppe, Treasurer.

In a few months the Club's roll had so inpreased that last May they were forced to find more ample quarters. The house at 980 Bedford avenue was selected and fitted handwith a billiard parlor and a gymsasium. The membership is now 105 and he Club has limited the number of members to 125. The present omcers are L. G. Titus ient; H. B. Skidmore, Vice-President: L. G. Hoppe, Secretary; F. T. Heim, Treas and Bdward T. White, Captain.

C. A. Hoppe, the Club's best racing man, who is about twenty-five years of age, holds the "ordinary" mile record on Manhattan id, winning that event at the last meet of the Kings County Whselmen in 2.37%. He is Governor Hell Gate the only man that ever competed against Campbell on a geared "ordinary" with success, and of this fact the Club is especially proud. He has won a large number of tro-phies. L. G. Hoppe, his brother, is also a racer of no mean ability, and has captured i umber of trophies.

Edward T. White, the Ciub's captain, although not much of a racing man, is an energetic worker in the Club's behalf, and takes great interest in the progress of the or-ganization. Mr. White is a genial man, about thirty years of age, and well proportioned, and is considered a "stayer," leading the Club on all its runs, which are generally long nes. The Club takes two or three tours year of about a week in duration.

Another rider of great promise is Al Stutes man. Of late Mr. Stutesman has shown a great deal of speed, having covered a mile on an ordinary in less than 2.40. Stutesman is an athlete, and will be seen in many of the big games next Spring among the long-distance runners, at which he has made quite Addie's Father Objected to He Blamed Sawed-Off."

Farmer Henry Thomas, of Hyde Park, L. J. is wrothy to-day, because in the first place his buxom daughter Addle must needs clop with her betrothed, and secondly, because the man she ran off with, Farmer Thomas save, is so short that he would have to stand on a shingle to pluck the tall feathers off a

Another thing which annoys Farmer Thomas is that the clusive Addie slipped away in her stocking feet.

The man in the case is Charles Derber, a grocer's clerk at Balawin's. He has had to do his "sparking" under difficulties, as Mr. Thomas objected to him as a suitor for his daughter's hand on the score that he was "a blamed sawed-off."

Derber lacks about six inches of the ordinary stature, and his manly brow can by no means rest upon Addie's shoulder unless he gets on stilts.

But Addie loved him just as much as though he were a giant, and when Charles histed at stealing away in the dead of night, Addie was willing.

The pair planned to get away Wednessay night, and after some difficulty, they did.

But Farmer Thomas smelt a mouse, and he goe up just in time to see Miss Addie tiptoeling out of doors, with ghousily white stockings on her feet and her shoes in her hands.

The farmer yelled, Addie screamed, threw her shoes away and bounded into a carriage, which Charley had in waiting, and though papa drove a mile after them, they distanced him.

MANAGER DAWSON ARRESTED.

Discharged in Court, but His Rival Manager Got the Warrant Renewed. Famuel Dawson, manager of the Lee Avenue Academy of Music, Williamsburg, was discharged from custody in the Lee Avenue Court this morning. He had been arrested on complaint of James Sheridan, a biliposter, of the Novelty Theatre, but the complainant did not appear. The arrest was the outcome of a bili-posters war, now being waged between the two theatres.

After a dismissel of the case by Justice Goetting, the complainant and his lawyer appeared and applied for a renewal of the warrant, which request was granted.

His Contract. The Armory Soard met in the Mayor's office this morning. Architect Thomas was present and explained that the delay in finishing the new Seventy-first Regiment Armory was due to difficulty in obtaining the materials. He believed, however, that the work could be completed in the specified time.

The other coal stocks held about steady, while the general market developed greater strength than ever and sold at about the top writes of the day. The commission houses had liberal orders for outside account and the brokers who act for the professionals were kept busy. It is evident that new pools are being formed in various stocks. The Armory Soard met in the Mayor's office completed in the specified time.

The Board, on motion of Commissioner Barker, decided to pay $9,221.80 to Contractor Gallagher as the irrst payment, and notified him that he must hurry up the work or forfelt the contract.

A communication was received from Capt.
